Paycheck Investigators provides highly specialized payroll services that locate and document discrepancies in wages, commissions, leave balances, superannuation and HECS/HELP payments. We offer a range of services to cover the needs of most Australian employees and we aim to provide valuable, accurate and timely information to our clients whilst delivering great customer service.

Our diverse knowledge and experience as well as our simple 5 step Investigation Process provides Australian employees a fast and effective way to have their pay and entitlements verified. We provide clients the option of having the discrepancies that we have identified detailed to them in an email and in most cases, this email can be forwarded directly to the client's employer or payroll department. This option produces faster and hassle free resolution to any issues for our clients.

Furthermore, we respect the fact that we are handling sensitive information; rest assured your privacy will be respected at all times. Please view our privacy policy or contact us if you have any concerns regarding our method of handling sensitive information

We are only too happy to discuss your particular needs. Don't delay in subscribing to our services as any discrepancies could be costing you money.

Paycheck Investigators taking the hard work out of checking your pay and entitlements!
